Passing Years Transform
Old Ivy Day Traditions
First Ceremony Held In 1898;
Former Customs Now Antiquated

Students of tradition, who have been passing down the customs of the Ivy League for generations, are now finding that many of these customs are becoming antiquated. The first Ivy Day ceremony was held in 1898, and since that time it has grown into a major event on the college calendar. The ceremony is now held in the gymnasium, and it is attended by thousands of students and faculty members. The ceremony is a day of fun and games, and it is a time when the students can relax and enjoy each other's company. The ceremony is a tradition that has been passed down for generations, and it is a part of the Ivy League's heritage.
