There are ways to sustain beauty, magic and peace while in the throes of RESPONSIBILITY - Looming, Bearing down

THE RECURRING THEME:
STABILITY IN THE MIST
OF A CHAOTIC WORLD FULL OF RESPONSIBILITY.

RESPONSIBLE BEHAVIOR
is made up of 5 essential elements:

1. Honesty
2. Compassion
3. Fairness
4. Accountability
5. Courage

is ill, creating art, creating a life - and even within those things that are heartbreaking.

How do we bring attention, care, love? To all these facets of life?

Through a shift in perception, the most dreaded responsibilities can strive for beauty + unity.

What about Civic Responsibility?

I founded 29 Pieces -
a non-profit organization that must be perceived as non-political.

To do our work,
and to enter schools
and work with students and teachers, we cannot further a political agenda.
That would damage us.
But, the political

is there. We don't emphasize it.

Truth is, we have a
radical political agenda.
Framed within the effort to make the world a more kind place.

Radically idealistic -
brought by a non-threatening, kind, playful and very determined team.

And kindness / peace /
non-violence is at odds with the agenda of our greedy, short sighted,
capitalist, cruel,

selfish system.

And here in 2016-2020,
we have the epitome of all that sitting in the White House.

CRUEL is King.

History - if human life persists - will not be kind to this man
and his henchmen who propagate crime, brutality,
stupidity, racism,
misogyny, selfishness,
and ugliness - with
arrogance and pride.

Revolting, Unbridled
greed. Unbridled fear-mongering.

Yesterday - in the car - I flipped on NPR to hear some of the impeachment hearings, and I had to turn it off. The urge to vomit.

So what is my Responsibility here?
Beyond 29 Pieces, I am a private citizen who can raise my voice. Does it do any good with the current people in office in the Senate from Texas and Nebraska.

What happens in a psychotic "break" or "slide" or unraveling?

Can [REDACTED] be put back together again?

[REDACTED] is a member of our meditation group. He is bright, insightful, gainfully employed and married to [REDACTED]. He was born into a Muslim family in India, but studies Hindu texts and has pretty much memorized the Bhagavadgita. The Gita.

and the SLIDE

How do I help someone who slid into the mud?

The recent political events with Modi in India tripped the slide/unraveling/break. Hindu childhood friends began talking separatism to [redacted] A cleansing of India to become a Hindu state. Hindu fundamentalism [redacted] engaged in the disputes. He began meditating 2 hours (+) each day. The betrayal, loss, Gita fervor, and anger got to him, and this man—who to my perception was stable—has unravelled. He sends out emails to all of us asking /

pleading with us to read certain passages + books.

He announces that he is divorcing [redacted] + identifies his 25 year
marriage as a 'karmic
debt' that is now
repaid. So painful.

He vilifies other
friends who are trying to help him.

This is what extreme sorrow, confusion and anger, betrayal does.

It is not hard to see how someone becomes radicalized.

And those of us on the sidelines - once past the initial shock of witnessing this crash - we "what"? Extend Love, we pray for his peace, we beg God to more than restore [redacted] but to rebuild [redacted] - with this experience now part of his story - and emerging as an even stronger force of unity.

What is my responsibility to [redacted]? To [redacted]? To the other conundrums?

On the flip side of all

29 Pieces is the JOY.

Feb. 1, 2020

On NPR a bit ago - a piece on a 72 year old woman who, for the first time in her life, was experiencing DELIGHT.

She was a mother of
6. She'd raised the kids and then for 10 years
cared for her ailing husband - who had cancer.

She said that because of her overwhelming
feelings of RESPONSIBILITY, she'd not felt DELIGHT
till more than four years
after his death.

KN + KB
Feb. 9, 2020

It can't be this way.
Not for me.
DELIGHT comes hand
in hand with RESPONSIBILITY.
It has to, or what's the point?

There are a million
moments of DELIGHT
tucked within the perceived weighted dagger
of RESPONSIBILITY,
if I only take the moment and the vast opportunity to notice, to touch, to observe.

A smile. A bird.
A cloud. A blossom.

2.2.20. LEFT HAND

There was a moment—
when we were children—
that our acute childlike radar went off. All these grown ups around us
were telling us to
"Behave" or "Be good."
And then they'd leave
church & it wouldn't take long at all for the racial slurs to
start, or the gossip,
or outright betrayals.

A cupcake. A turn of phrase. A joke. Confetti!
Within our world of RESPONSIBILITY, we can be harbinger/beacon and
observer of DELIGHT.
YES.

2.2.20

Early morning, Feb. 2.2020
The twenties.

The reprehensible senate.
They were children once—who at some point looked at adults and thought—
"it's all a lie." "They tell me to be good while they all lie." Now,
they are the lying adults.

My child's brain
didn't yet know
the word hypocrisy.
I just understood
lies.

And now, the highest leaders of this country have said to every child - Lie if it
works for you.
Break laws if it
serves you.

This victory for some
is a failure of epic

We might as well tell
all children,
"Lying is good if it
gets you what you want."

"Greed is good."
"Thinking you are
better than someone else,
that's good, too."
Younger people than
me will need to decide what kind of world they want to live in.

TO: FAMILY
I was taught to take care of. To step up and care for Mom and Dad when they needed help. To care for parents, husband.

TO: FRIENDS.
A friend is loyal.
I aim to be a loyal friend. An encouraging supportive friend.
Simple.
Encourage.
Be loyal.

CENTERS

TO: GOD'S PLAN
Ever since I was 17 or 18, I've felt that there were successive chapters, and the responsibilities I was asked to take on became/become my DESTINY.

TO: GOD'S CREATION.
Bend. Tend.
Disappear.
Love, honor and protect the radiant creation of the world soul.

To: 29 Pieces.

I don't know what the hell is going on with this
but I've been imbued
with the deepest
need for RESPONSIBIL-ITY to this.

To keep the work
alive. To continue
making connections,
keeping connections,
To do the work
that keeps coming
to my lap like
some divine school
or assignment sheet.

To: The WORK.

A willingness to do
"THE WORK." That is the umbrella over all else. The WORK
of life. The education of the heart.

To dig deeper to excavate love when
the work is hard and
the well feels depleted.
How deep is the love?
Real Deep.

TO: MYSELF

My health.

A fullness of well beings

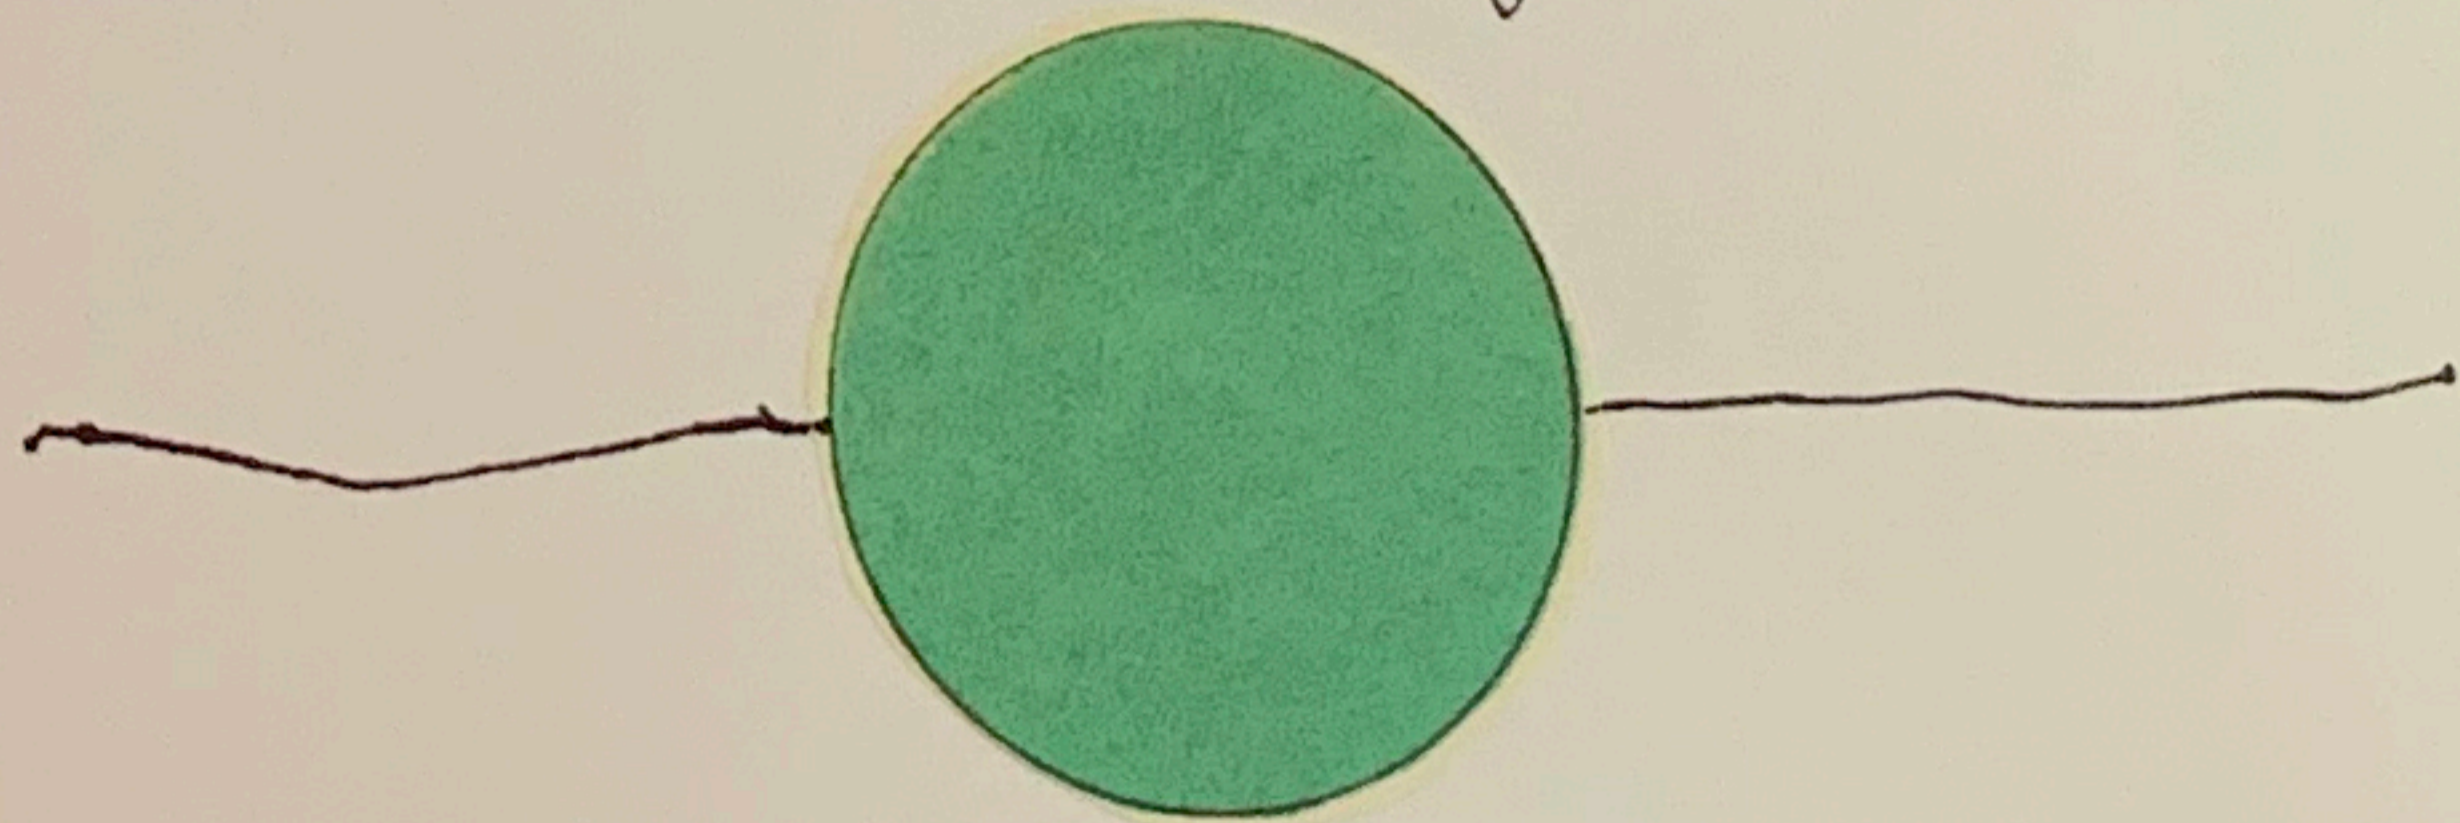

Spiritual. Physical.

Emotional.

My Joy.

My beautiful career.

To carry things
lightly.

Last Thursday, Jan. 30, 2020, we toured 3 of the 6
 schools we'll be working with in 2020. This is the Trust for Public Land
 project. Me, Joe, Vicki, Jennifer Maria, Dolores, Peter went to

Burnet
 Sam Houston
 Salazar
 ← Guzik student art.

Vastly different campuses. Ideas began to jump out. A tower,
 a staircase, a ground
 space for gathering.

It's 2 am. I am beginning to get tired, wish I had a bedroom with skylight.

I'd like to see the stars tonight.

From the art room →
at Salazar Elem.,
one of the schools
we are working with
on the Trust for Public Land project.
