

Saigon, Vietnam
September 26, 1967

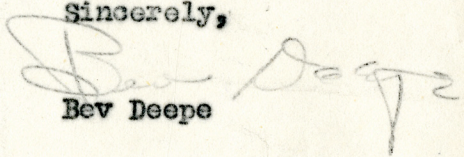

Mr. Sam Schreiner, Jr.
The Reader's Digest
Pleasantville, N. Y. 10570

Dear Sam:

Thanks for your letter of September 8th, your guidance and recommendations. I'll begin working on the riverine piece next week. To my horror, I've been told women are not allowed to stay overnight on the U. S. Navy boats, without permission from Washington. I think I can manage to skirt that problem, though, and will be in touch after my research is finished to see how the article shapes up then.

'Til then--my thanks and regards to John Hubbell for the name of his friend, and,

Sincerely,

Bev Deepe